

SELF-ASSESSMENT RUBRIC

Once you have completed a whole persuasive text, review your work using this self-assessment rubric. Look at each 'I have ...' statement and decide how well you have used each of the Steps in your text. You may have used some Steps and there may be some that you have missed that could be used to improve your next draft.

I have ...

a great plan with at least three clear arguments, an introduction and a conclusion (Step 1) engaged the reader immediately (Step 2) gradually built up the tension and reached a crescendo just before the ending (Step 3) used quotations to add authority and support my arguments (Step 4) built empathy and engaged the reader's emotions by showing rather than telling (Step 5) used all of the Seven Steps techniques to revise and improve the text (Step 6) made a final appeal to the reader to convince them to change their beliefs (Step 7)
