

Sevensteps

Step 1: Plan for Success Fairy Tales and Fables on the Story Graph

One of the best ways to learn is to see examples, like these story graphs.

How to use them:

- Explore favourite stories and how they work
- Look for moments of tension (the pebble, rock and boulder)
- Compare the many ways stories start and end
- Inspire students to create their own story graphs!

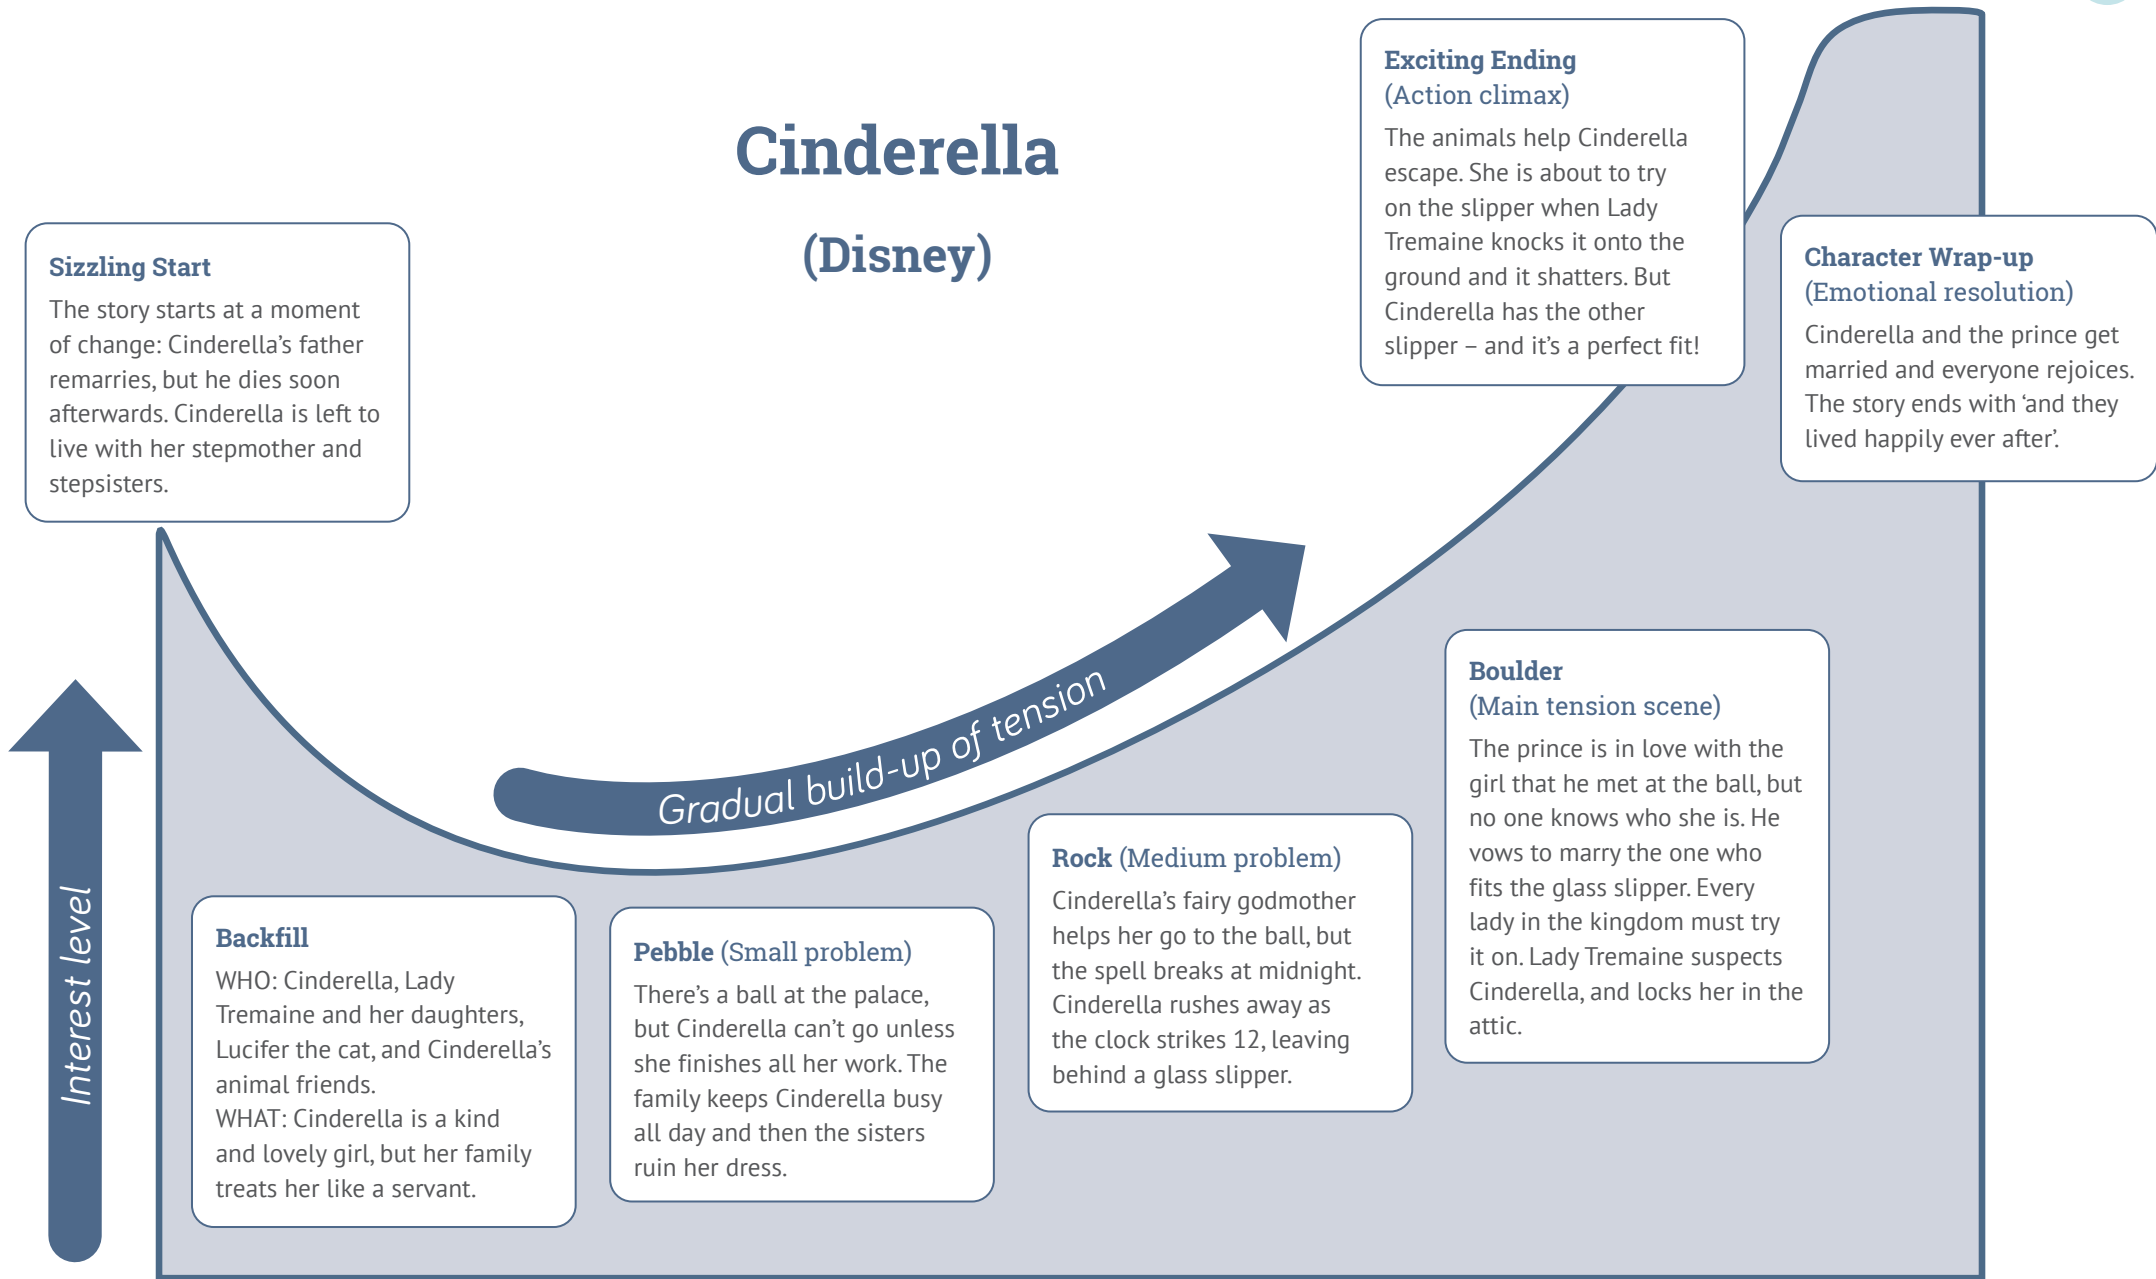

There are many more sets of story graphs available, covering books with themes from friendship and belonging to sustainability and First Nations histories and cultures, as well as secondary texts. Members can find them on Teacher Hub.

The Boy Who Cried Wolf

(Aesop's fables)

Cinderella (Disney)

Cinderella

(Charles Perrault)

Sizzling Start

The story starts at a moment of change: A man marries his second wife, the 'proudest and most haughty woman that was ever seen.'

Backfill

WHO: Cinderella, her stepmother and stepsisters.
WHAT: Cinderella is a kind and lovely girl, but her stepmother is cruel and treats her like a servant.

Pebble (Small problem)

The king's son holds a ball and 'all persons of fashion' are invited. Cinderella is upset because she wishes she could go too.

Rock (Medium problem)

Cinderella goes to the ball thanks to her fairy godmother. She has such a good time that she forgets to leave before midnight. She rushes home as the clock strikes 12, leaving behind a glass slipper.

Boulder (Main tension scene)

The prince is in love with the girl that he met at the ball, but no one knows who she is. He vows to marry the one who fits the glass slipper. All the young ladies try on the shoe, including the stepsisters, but it doesn't fit.

Exciting Ending (Action climax)

Cinderella tries on the slipper and it fits perfectly. She pulls the other slipper from her pocket and puts it on. Her fairy godmother touches her wand to Cinderella's shabby clothes and they turn into rich finery.

Character Wrap-up (Emotional resolution)

The stepsisters apologise and Cinderella forgives them. Cinderella is brought to the prince and he marries her within a few days. She invites her sisters to the palace and finds lords for them to marry.

Goldilocks and the Three Bears

(Katharine Pyle)

Hansel and Gretel

(Brothers Grimm)

The Hare and the Tortoise

(Aesop's fables)

Little Red Riding Hood

(Brothers Grimm)

Little Red Riding Hood

(Charles Perrault)

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs

(Brothers Grimm)

Sizzling Start
The story opens at a moment of change: A princess called Snow White is born but her mother, the queen, dies.

Backfill
The king marries a new queen (Snow White's stepmother) who is beautiful and vain. The queen has a magic mirror. It tells her every day that she is the 'fairest of all!'

Pebble (Small problem)
One day the magic mirror tells the queen that Snow White is 'a thousand times fairer'. The queen is filled with envy, and orders a huntsman to kill Snow White.

Rock (Medium problem)
The queen learns that Snow White is still alive – she is living in the forest with the seven dwarfs. The queen tries to kill Snow White herself. The first two times, the dwarfs save Snow White.

Boulder (Main tension scene)
On her third attempt, the queen gives Snow White a poisoned apple. With one bite, Snow White falls down dead. The dwarfs are devastated. Snow White is too beautiful to bury underground, so they place her in a glass coffin and watch over her.

Exciting Ending (Action climax)
A prince sees Snow White and begs to take her with him. Eventually the dwarfs say yes. As soon as the prince picks up the coffin, the piece of apple falls out of Snow White's mouth and she wakes up!

Character Wrap-up (Emotional resolution)
The prince asks Snow White to come and live with him in the palace, and she agrees. The wicked queen dies and Snow White and the prince live happily ever after.

The Three Billy Goats Gruff

(Peter Christen Asbjørnsen & Jørgen Moe)

Sizzling Start

The story starts at a moment of change: Three goats are hungry and need to go up the hill to eat some grass.

Backfill

WHO: Three billy goats and a troll.
WHAT: The goats must cross a bridge over a stream, and the troll lives under it.
WHERE: A hillside or mountain.

Pebble (Small problem)

The youngest goat goes first. The troll is about to eat him but the little goat tells him to wait for the next goat, who's much bigger.

Rock (Medium problem)

The second goat comes to cross the bridge. The troll is about to eat him but the goat tells him to wait for the third goat, who's even bigger.

Boulder

(Main tension scene)

The big billy goat Gruff is last to cross the bridge, and the troll is waiting. But the big goat is not scared – he challenges the troll to fight.

Exciting Ending

(Action climax)

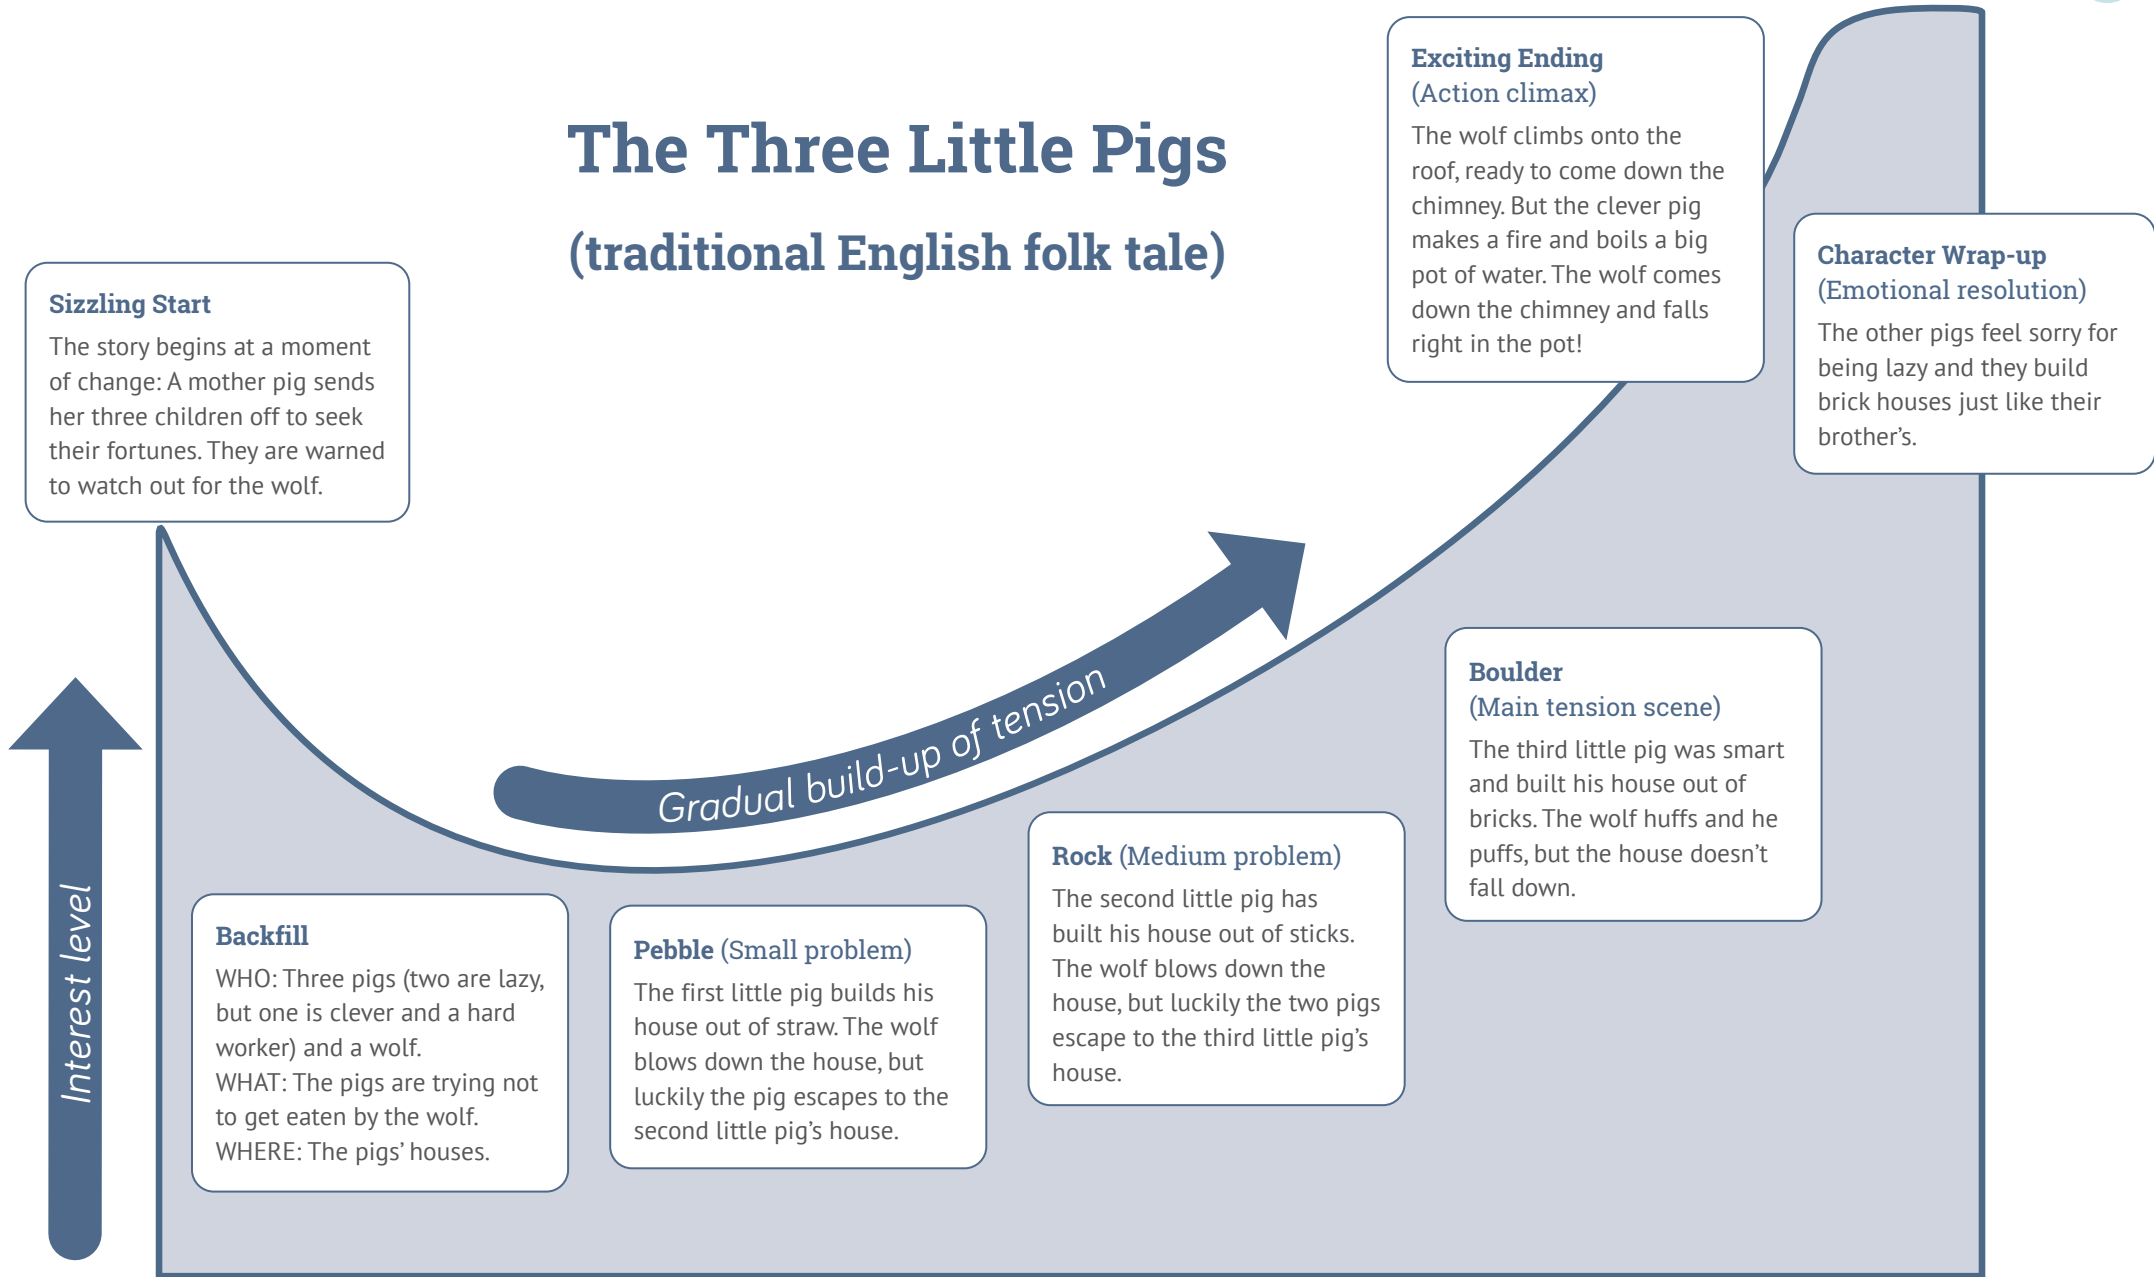

The goat attacks the troll with his big horns. He crushes the troll to bits and tosses him aside, then continues on his way.

Character Wrap-up

(Emotional resolution)

The three goats reach the hillside and eat all the grass they want.

The Three Little Pigs (traditional English folk tale)

Sizzling Start

The story begins at a moment of change: A mother pig sends her three children off to seek their fortunes. They are warned to watch out for the wolf.

Backfill

WHO: Three pigs (two are lazy, but one is clever and a hard worker) and a wolf.
WHAT: The pigs are trying not to get eaten by the wolf.
WHERE: The pigs' houses.

Pebble (Small problem)

The first little pig builds his house out of straw. The wolf blows down the house, but luckily the pig escapes to the second little pig's house.

Rock (Medium problem)

The second little pig has built his house out of sticks. The wolf blows down the house, but luckily the two pigs escape to the third little pig's house.

Boulder (Main tension scene)

The third little pig was smart and built his house out of bricks. The wolf huffs and he puffs, but the house doesn't fall down.

Exciting Ending (Action climax)

The wolf climbs onto the roof, ready to come down the chimney. But the clever pig makes a fire and boils a big pot of water. The wolf comes down the chimney and falls right in the pot!

Character Wrap-up (Emotional resolution)

The other pigs feel sorry for being lazy and they build brick houses just like their brother's.